COME YE TO THE FAIRE

"THE GLOVE IS UP & PLEASURE FAIRE IS COME TO TOWN"

The pageantrie and lusty spirite of the pleasure fairs of Olde England will again come alive in full costume for three joyous dayes in May.

This year's site . . . a lovely thirty-acre, tree-filled meadow at the Paramount Ranch on Cornell Road near Malibu Canyon and Mulholland Drive. Prithiee, see the advertisemente on the opposite page for exact directions and advance ticket sale informatione. Banners will direct the traveler to the Faire after leaving the Dual Carriageway (Freeway).

This year's Pleasure Faire shall be a peasant festival, a Bruegel holiday . . . "a colourful celebration visited by nobles and commons for an afternoon of trading and ribald merriment."

A CARAVAN OF WARES . . . Colourful medieval waggons & stalls are being constructed by the hundred or more craftsmen who shall arrive at Pleasure Faire from such distant shires as Santa Barbara, San Diego and San Francisco. These traveling merchants shall feature countless remarkable wares made especially for the Faire, with many a bargaine for the thriftie purse. Wares include stoneware pottery, stained glasse, jewelrie, block prints and ancient maps, leatherwork, tunics, textiles, candles, calligraphy and printing, medieval toys, amulets, kites, stitchery, puppets, masks and "fairings."

THE CALL O' THE FAIRE . . . At high noone each daye, with traditionale sounding of horns and ringing of Market Belles, the Call O'The Faire processione shall commence. 'Round the hill shall wende the jesters, dancers, revelers, drummers, banners, streamers, garlanded horses pulling waggons and cartes . . . preceeded by the Crier, the Bailiffe and the officials of the Faire. Patrons are advised to arrive 'round eleven, should they wish to view this noon Spectacle.

This boisterous merriment, called "walking the Faire," will be climaxed by the traditionale opening Proclamationes at the main stage, 'neath the trees. Thence shall begin the noysefull entertainments, bargaineings and feasting of the daye.

Entertainments shall include Commedia dell' Arte, A Medieval Morality Play, Jousting, Jesting, Strolling Players, Balladeers, Mimes, Minstrels, Musicians, Morris Dancers, Mummers, Maypole Dancers, Conjurers, and all manner of Peddlers, Players and Pitchmen.

As a special feature, this year, a supervised Children's Dell shall delight pre-schoolers with Castles, Galleons, Punch 'n Judy, arts and crafts. The Dell was designed by Preston Hibbard.

THE QUEENE CAROUSES . . . Each Daye at Three, the Queene shall arrive in a London Sedan Chair with Royal Retinue to carouse with the Merrie-makers. Her Majesty shall doubtless take an ale and feast on haunch of turkey, fish 'n chips or rare roast beef. Other foods of the period shall include tarts, fruits, hot cross buns and pastries, muffins, gingerbread, iced cider, lemonyde and wine from the keg.

The Renaissance Pleasure Faire was originated and is produced and designed annually by Ron and Phyllis Patterson. The building is under the directione of Rome Ronconi. The Faire is made possible by the bounty of hundreds of craftsmen, entertainers, and other volunteers.

You are invited to "Wende your Way and Merriment share . . . at the Market in May and Pleasure Faire." And your pleasure be doubled if ye come dressed in the Fashione of the Daye. (Travelers in Medieval attire on Horseback shall be admitted free.) And, prithiee, bring your dogs, ducks, goats and all other manner of livestock. Hi-Ho, Come to The Faire!

VIETNAM

"Defeat under present circumstances in South Vietnam is a matter of interpretation. Would a negotiated settlement be a defeat for us or a sensible way out? Or would an attack on North Vietnam drag us straight to a disaster that could be avoided?" (December 1964)

"Is even our national interest truly served by remaining in South Vietnam? Would our national interest be protected by escalating the war?" (February 1965)

"If President Johnson wants to avoid a wider war — and there is little doubt that he does — he may no longer have any practical course open to him other than to seek negotiation." (March 1965)

"Certainly the risks of not seeking negotiation now are great, great enough for the American people to deserve a voice in the decision to incur them." (April 1965)

"We should consider Canadian Prime Minister Pearson's suggestion for a 'pause' in the bombing of North Vietnam. The United States should also consider including the Vietcong among those parties with whom it would negotiate." (May 1965)

Outspoken, responsible comments, such as these by Editor Phil Kerby and Publisher Gifford Phillips have been a regular feature of their monthly magazine for over fifteen years. KPFK listeners are invited to become FRONTIER readers now at a special introductory rate of only $2.50 for one year.
